A FEW WORDS FROM YOUR PRESIDENT ...

Welcome to the 19th consecutive Annual C4 Convention, our second in Baltimore. Glad you are here, there is nothing like waiting all year for this convention and finally it is here. We have scheduled events, meetings, lectures and exhibits (at our C4 table). Please refer to this Program for specific times and location.

CA events (social, donated lots auction and educational program) will be held in the Harbort New room at the Sheraton Inner Harbor Hotel on Thursday night beginning at 6 pm. The Susiness Meeting at 8:30 am Saturday morning will be held in room 304 in the Convention Center, the same room as the daytime lectures on Friday and Saturday. Please check with the Whitman Program and our wester to confirm the times and locations of these events. Last minute changes an occur. Our co-persporated auction with Stack Bowers is going to be another great event, however without the sate from the control and star for the control of the same than the control and star for the convention has been monumental and I truly hope that you all have as much fun and excitement at this convention as we the Board had in planning it.

As this is only our second year here in Ballimore, I am sure that there are going to be some glitches that we have not been able to anticipate (after 15 years in Boston, there were still glitches that occurred). I ask that you be as understanding as possible, and point them out to a board member. We, the Board, have done our best to limit these issues but I am sure that some will occur and I spologize in advance for them.

So please enjoy yourselves, get no-acquainted with friends, make new ones, hang out at our C4 table and get to know your 'management' and maybe this is the year that you get involved with our club. If you have any questions or concerns, please stop by the C4 table, talk to board members and give us your comments. We can always improve on things. As always, I appreciate your confidence in our beard. We try to do our very best for our hobby.

C4's Focus and Purpose

The Colonial Coin Collectors Club (C4) was founded in 1993 to provide a forum for collectors of numismatic material related to the Early American era. This involves coins, tokens, currency, and medials. The exact time frame encompassed by colonial numismatics is open to debact, but is generally accepted to include the complete pre-federal period as well as some issues of the 1790's. The early George Washington coins, tokens and medials are considered colonial items by most, and some of these date to the first half of the intereenth century.

The club provides a forum for people interested in this period. The aims of the club are:

- 1- To increase the public's knowledge about colonial numismatics through meetings, conventions and its newsletter.
- To promote the study of colonial numismatics and to help disseminate this information.
- 3- To cultivate fraternal collector relations.

For these purposes, the club will hold several meetings during the year in conjunction with major numismatic shows. The club has also established a colonial reference library and a colonial coin photo file. In addition, the C4 Newsletter is published quarterly.

HOW MANY TIMES IN HISTORY can you find over one million coins, many of them rare or valuable, all in one place?

We're talking U.S. coins, World coins, even ancient coins found along the Silk Road. Not to mention paper money, metals, tokens and other interesting and historic exomumia. All from more than 1,006 independent dealers.

At the Whitman Coin & Collectibles Baltimore Expo—November 7-10, 2013—you'll find exactly that, and more. And here's the really amazing thing: it's absolutely FREE to attend.

Whether you're buying, selling or trading there's nothing quite like having dealers and collectors from conciss the country and around the world, all under the Baltimore Convention Center non-tool center roof.

YOU CAN EVEN TAKE PART IN THE OFFICIAL AUCTION by Stack's Bowers Galleries, including a special Rarities Night Auction that features a limited number of eithe numberatic collectibles.

So, avoid the risks associated with time travel and banditry. Join us for the Whitman Baltimore Expo, November 7-10 in Hall A. Bring the family while you're at it.

Just visit Expo. Whitman.com for details, schedules, and FREE online registration.

As William Sheldon eloquently put it in Penny Whimsy,

Old copper, like beauty, appears to possess a certain intrinsic quality or charm...
[with] an almost living warmth and personality not encountered in any other metal.... You see rich shades of green, red, brown, yellow, and even deep ebony:
together not elsewhere matched in nature save perhaps in autumn leaves...

Early coppers are rich in die varieties, craeked dies, imperfect and unusual planchets, misstruck coins and other minor variations...It is therefore not surprising that to some extent the different die varieties are recognizable by characteristic color and surface texture, as well as by die breaks, peculiarities of the planchet and so on.

New Jensey State Coppers shows that never were these words more true than in the case of the coins struck for New Jensey by Thomas Goadwid, Albion Cox, Walter Mould, and Matthias Ogden from 1786 until as late as 1790. By way of introduction, the authors fully discuss the often tumultuous history of the New Jensey copper coinage and its creators alongside the equally compelling story of the men, like Dr. Edward Maris who formed the great collection of the person of the control of th

Ever since coinage was developed in ancient Lodia, an element of society has sought to debase the coin of the realin for personal gain not only by counterfeiting, but also by shaving away precious metal. Currency debasement was not confined to the proletariat since throughout history artisons monarchis increased their royal revenues, or seigniorage, by reducing the quality of the coins' specie content or its weight standard. The current retra follows closely the course of royal English copper coinages whose high potential profit made them an ideal profess countrietters. These forgeries flowed freely into the colonies and leading to for countrietters. These forgeries flowed freely into the colonies that the contraction of the contraction of the contraction of the colonies of the contraction of the contraction of the contraction of the colonies of the contraction of the contraction of the colonies o

Great attention is paid to Great Birtain's moreconfiliatie policies which shaped the character of the currency in the North American colonies where chronic hard money shortages encouraged counterfeit colonges of all stripes whose actual manufacture and circulation is examined in great detail. Colonists surber sought to expand their monetary pool by printing bills of credit to meet the edigatesis of the Prench and rulinian Wars. This new paper currency likewise became the target for foregrey and a battle royal enauch between the colonial treasures and house of counterfeiters as they competed to outsmart each other. But as "the weed of crime bears bitter fruit," many counterfeiters were apprehended and pumbhed for their evid deeds.
